BARASOAIN KALINANGAN FOUNDATION, INC. (BKFI) – MALOLOS

The Barasoain Kalinangan Foundation, Inc. (BKFI) is a community theater in historic Malolos, Bulacan. When it began in 1980 as an initiative by seven young thespians from different towns in Bulacan province who wanted to mount street theater productions as strategic components of political mass actions, it utilized as its base—rehearsal, performance, and office spaces—the iconic Barasoain Church, where at the turn of the century revolutionary leaders drafted the first constitution which gave birth to the Philippine Republic, the first constitutional democracy in Asia.

BKFI—whose vision is “A nationalist and humane Bulakeño culture”—has continuously developed and promoted the richness of Bulacan history and culture through its original productions that pay tribute to Bulacan heroes and artists.

PHILIPPINE HIGH SCHOOL FOR THE ARTS (PHSA)

PHSA implements a general secondary program which is integrated with a special curriculum in the arts. It aims to develop cultural leaders in the preservation of the environment and dynamic evolution of the Philippine Arts and Culture (P.D. 1287, 1978). It is committed to the conservation and promotion of the Filipino artistic and cultural traditions and makes every effort to develop the potentials of its young arts scholars as future cultural leaders with a nationalistic orientation.

PHSA is presently attached to the Department of Education (DepEd). It consults with the Cultural Center of the Philippines (CCP) for policy and program implementation pertaining to the arts. The institution offers five courses of specialization in the arts: Theater Arts, Creative Writing, Visual Arts, Dance, and Music. While students are specializing in specific arts field, PHSA also provides general education curriculum as prescribed by DepEd.

SILLIMAN UNIVERSITY

At Silliman, education is what beats within you. It is the heart that pulls your goals and aspirations together, and the spirit that breathes life to them. Slowly, you make sense of what works around you, and release your dreams from the pages locked up in mental notes of your initial fear of failure.

At Silliman, education strikes a chord with three components that make us humans: the mind, the heart and the soul. And this guides us in moving ahead, in developing persons of competence, character and faith - "whole person kind of education" that develops people for others.
